Dudley Swim Proposes Private Financing For Parklands

BY MARJORY LLOYD

"Generous and interesting" is how Area Planning Commission Chairman Keith Evans described proposals made by Dudley Swim for the acquisition of land for scenic conservation in Lower Carmel Valley and the Jacks Peak Area.

Mr. Evans received the proposals, including one recommending that a foundation be formed to acquire properties desirable for conservation, in a letter presented to him by Rear Admiral C. Tod Singleton (USN Ret.), following a public hearing on the area plan last week. Admiral Singleton is chairman of the Citizens Committee for Conservation.

In this letter, Mr. Swim offered a donation of $100,000 to buy 55 acres on Jacks Peak on condition part of this acreage be a site for the new Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula.

If for any reason this proposal should not work out, Mr. Swim offered an alternative: he would advance a $100,000 loan for down payments, or for obtaining options, on properties highly desirable for park lands.

Thirdly, Mr. Swim said in his letter that he gave enthusiastic endorsement and acceptance of the area plan's proposal rural zoning for his Druid Hills Ranch which includes the forested hills north of Carmel Junior High School. He added that he and Mrs. Swim are dedicated to maintaining this property at the entrance to the Valley "as a greenbelt for the benefit of the community...a contribution, of course, at our own expense. Our long-range plans are to keep it in the family, never to subdivide it, and to devote it to those uses...and only those uses...which are compatible through the generations as a greenbelt."

Mr. Swim's letter also recommended that, rather than setting up a local park district to handle acquisition of the parks proposed in the area plan, a foundation be formed to acquire properties which would add to the natural charm of the community.

He suggested that the foundation could be called the Monterey Peninsula Conservation Foundation or The Haseltine Foundation. The latter would be a memorial to Miss Orre Haseltine of Carmel Valley, whose farsightedness, creative imagination, and unbounded generosity led her to be the godmother of master planning of the Carmel Valley."

Mr. Swim gave as the reason for the foundation proposal that "A park district is bound to produce a controversy, add to the heavy tax burdens of the area, and create another layer of bureaucracy as well as create bitterness through any efforts at coercion."

His letter concluded with the

Athens Water Follies at Carmel Valley Inn Sunday

Nationally famous aquatic entertainment comes to Carmel Valley Inn this Sunday at 2:00 p.m. with the Athens Water Ballet. Besides a variety of water ballets, there will be championship diving, dancing, comedy diving, and nationally famous swimming stars. The latter include Al White of Richmond, California, 10-time national diving champion and double Olympic champion in 1924 and Darlene Georgian, Pacific Association diving champion.

The Athens Water Follies has been featured in such publications as the Saturday Evening Post and Sports Illustrated, presented on such television programs as Ed Sullivan's, Art Baker's "You Asked For It" and Richfield's "Success Story." Members of the group have traveled all over the world on tours sponsored by the State Department and the Armed Forces.

The public is invited to the Inn for the event. Tickets are available in Carmel at Nelle Currie Interiors, Pine Inn, and at the Carmel Valley General Store. Admission is $1 for adults, 50¢ for young people under 18, with children under 5 admitted free of charge.

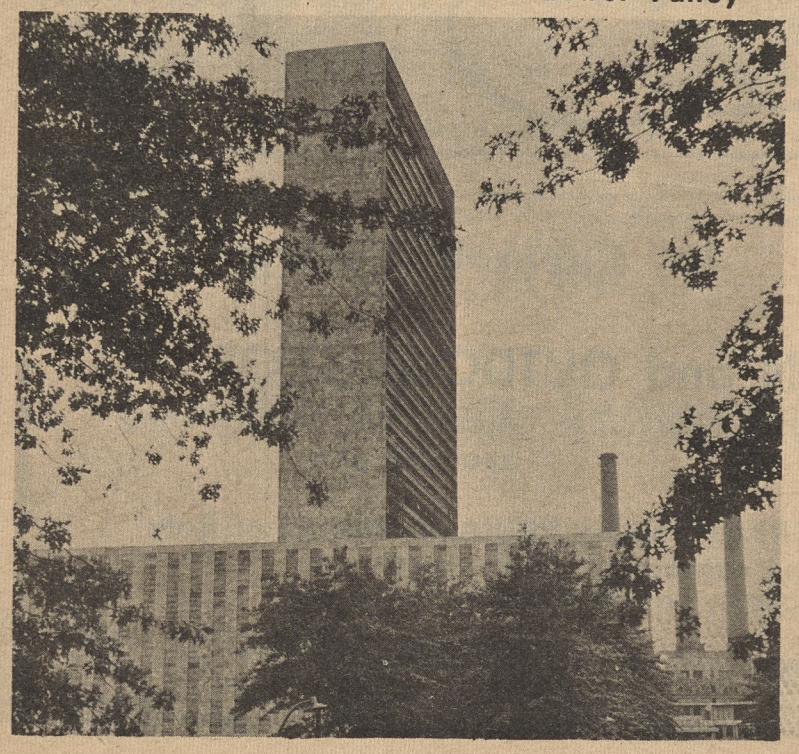

ABOVE:

Well Baby Clinic

All pre-schoolers and babies not under the regular care of a physician are invited to the Well Baby Clinic which will be held next Tuesday morning, 9 a.m. to noon, at the Carmel Valley Community Center. Appointments should be made by telephoning the Monterey County Health Department (372-4583).

Carmel Valley volunteers will staff the clinic, Pat Richards reports.

New Development Planned For Lower Valley

Chamber To Lunch At CV Manor

Lunch in the dining room of Carmel Valley Manor awaits members of the Chamber of Commerce who wish to attend the monthly Board of Directors meeting next Wednesday, April 8. Luncheon will begin at 12:15.

What's on the agenda? President Rex White hereby serves notice that he would like all the various committee chairmen to present progress reports on "activities in their various sectors, to date."

THE 5TH ANNUAL JUNIOR HORSESHOW of Carmel Valley Horsemen's Association will be on Sunday at Holman's Guest Ranch.

Young contestants will line up for opening ceremonies at 10 a.m. as they are shown in the picture (above) taken at last year's show. There will be a break for lunch at noon. The show will resume with a Grand Entry at 1 p.m. Food and refreshments will be available all day. Admission will be: adults, $1.00; junior, 50 cents; children eight years old and younger, free.

Local entries and many from surrounding areas should make this year's event one of the best on record for spectators and youthful participants.

A Community Services District?

One type of legal machinery for furnishing extended governmental services to unincorporated areas of California counties was recently detailed in these columns -- the County Services Area. An alternative to that possibility is a Community Services District, described to us by John O. Thornberry, assistant county counsel.

A Community Services District is created by an election. The first step consists of a petition signed by registered voters in the proposed district equal to at least 25 of the votes cast in the area at the last general election and representing at least 25% of the assessed valuation. Upon receipt of the petition at one of their regular meetings, the Board of Supervisors sets a hearing date from 20 to 40 days thereafter, twice publishing a notice of the time and place.

If a board of directors is to run the district, its members are elected at large on the same day that the question of formation is put before the voters. This election takes place not less than 40 nor more than 60 days after this date of the final hearing. Petitioners for the Community Services District have the choice of asking for a local board of directors or of designating the Board of Supervisors as the governing body.

Taxes to support a Community Services District are collected by the county, but the rate is fixed by the board of directors and may not exceed $1.00 per $100 assessed valuation without a formal vote for an increase. The board of directors, if there is one, may be compensated up to $10.00 per meeting.

The main organizational difference between the two types of district, then, is that the County Service Area is directed by the county Board of Supervisors and staffed by county employees who are professionals in their fields; the Community Services District may be both directed and implemented by local citizens. These may or may not have pertinent experience or training for administering for example, a drainage project, a sewage plant, or whatever.

It is assumed that the Board of Directors will hire employees to do the actual work of the district, but the qualifications of these employees are subject only to the judgment of the directors and not to formal testing as are county employees.

In the Valley, concern currently centers on the area of police protection. Here it is generally agreed that zeal is a poor substitute for training, and where well-schooled officers are at a premium, a given area might drive a poor bargain in substituting its own employees for those of the county. Sheriff Davenport's recent remarks about the dangers of deputizing local citizens would seem to apply.

If the voters choose to put the Board of Supervisors in charge of a Community Services District, the main feature distinguishing it from a County Service Area then is the tax ceiling of $1.00 per $100 on the funds of the Community Services District, which may be looked on as a safeguard or a hamstringing device, depending upon one's attitudes.

The Office of the County Counsel also advises that statutory provisions for the management and administration of a community services district seem to them "markedly more complicated" than for a county service area.

A Letter To The Board of Supervisors

(PRINTED HERE IN FULL AND SELF-EXPLANATORY --ED.)

March 25, 1964

Board of Supervisors
Monterey County
157 West Alisal
Salinas, California

Gentlemen:

The acts of assault, burglary, vandalism, malicious mischief, and drag racing, as well as peace disturbance, committed by juveniles and others in recent months are a source of major concern to residents of Carmel Valley.

Although, within the past 10 years, this community has witnessed in excess of one hundred percent growth, the increase, if any, in police protection has been negligible. Since funds utilized by Monterey County for this area, where tax receipts have doubled during the past decade, due to this dynamic growth in population and tax assessment, police protection, somehow, should have kept comparable pace.

The foregoing should, in no way, be construed as being critical of the Sheriff's Office, as this Community feels that Sheriff Davenport is probably doing the best he can with the resources at hand. Rather, the residents feel that a greater slice of the tax pie should be allocated to police protection, than is currently the practice; this action would then have the desired effect of not only providing additional protection to this, but to other unincorporated areas, as well.

It is therefore requested that a study be made by your Board to determine ways and means to increase police protection in this area, without the burden of additonal cost to property owners, especially during critical periods, when the acts referred to in the opening paragraph are most likely to occur. There is no better deterrent to acts of violence, vandalism, etc., than the frequent observation of a patrol car in an area, and the knowledge that one may respond upon call within a few minutes notice.

The County Curfew Law, recently enacted, should assist materially in the reduction of civil disorders, but unless adequate patrols are maintained, efficient enforcement is practically impossible.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Mrs. Branch:

I just finished reading your editorial in this weeks Outlook and realize how remiss I have been in not joining two of the groups that are trying to keep the Valley a pleasant residential community and also in not subscribing to your paper. . .Therefore, the least I can do is to subscribe to the paper and become a member of the Community Center and the CVPOA.

I am enclosing check for $6 for a two year subscription to the paper; another for $4 for the Community Center; and a third one for $6 for the CVPOA. These last two checks will cover last years dues and this coming year. Will you please see that they get them?

I do not live in Carmel Valley, but I do have a cottage in Robles Del Rio. If you care to use any part of this letter it is O.K. with me but please do not use my name.

Sincerely,

(Ed.: The checks are all on their way to their proper destinations. And this is the sort of response that makes an editor's week! What can we say but thank you?)

LCV Advisory Group Wants Alcan Study

The Lower Carmel Valley advisory committee to the county planning commission met March 25 in the Carmel Rancho meeting hall.

Following discussion of the proposed 329 unit Alcan development on approximately 40 acres of a 329 acre site, the committee forwarded to the county a request that no action be taken until a study be made relating density of units to slope classification.

Property owner association presidents who spoke against the Alcan development were Larry Horan (LCV) and Colonel George Brown (CVPOA). Colonel St. E.P. Tyner objected for Carmel Knolls residents and Fred Naber for Rancho Rio Vista.

The advisory committee, headed by Leonard Williams, disapproved plans for a P.G.& E. corporation yard.

Plans for Bishop Kip Episcopal grade school in the Meadows Tract were approved contingent upon improvements in architectural design.

WHITE OAKS AUDITIONS FRIDAY

BY CHRIS MILO

Singers, actors, and dancers for the 1964 summer season of Carmel Valley's White Oaks Theatre will be auditioned on Friday, from 7 to 9 p.m. at the theatre. Auditions in San Francisco and Los Angeles will follow.

White Oaks, now in its sixth year, is a non-profit theatre and training center for young people interested in a career in the theatre - especially musical theatre. This summer White Oaks is offering to the 20 carefully selected resident company members, plus additional singers, a wide range of learning and experience.

The four major productions which will be presented are: Sandy Wilson's "The Boy Friend"; "The Three Penny Opera"; "The Pajama Game", and a concert of Menotti's "Unicorn, Manticore, and Gorgon" with Stravinsky's "LeHistoire de Soldat". Also, "Rumpelstilskin" will be given as the Children's Theatre matinee attraction.

The Menotti and Stravinsky works, which will be performed four times September 10 to 13, require a chorus which White Oaks is most anxious to obtain from this area. Rehearsals for the chorus will take place throughout the summer at hours that will not interfere with work or summer school. And no acting experience is required.

For further information regarding these auditions please call or write the theatre.

CAN'T STAND SWIMMING POOLS

"Me donate to the Carmel Valley Community Swimming Pool Fund? Certainly not!" So said Tedwin B. Hayfield, outstanding community leader, early this week. "I do not approve of swimming pools and you can quote me," continued Mr. Hayfield. "There is no telling where that sort of thing may lead to."

Carmel Rancho SHOPPING CENTER

At the Entrance to Carmel Valley

When our Monterey Peninsula wildflowers burst into color, what usually sensible woman doesn't turn clothes-mad? Time to tell you of new fashions at The House of Lyn! Cottons... knits... pants... and tops... cocktail dresses... this attractive shop has exciting new stock with the spring colors of a flowering hillside.

Here's a pair of slim stretch pants in a marvelous shade of azalea pink, at 11.00. You might splurge and have a pure silk shirt, white with azalea flowers, to go with them... 22.00. The costume look is important this season... you'll find coats with dresses... sleeveless sheaths with jackets, and one specially pretty combination is a long-sleeved dress with finely pleated skirt in mint green with a jade vest.

New handknits are two-piece style - a long sleeved, longline top with faggoting outlining the neck and sleeves, paired with a slim skirt. You may have this suit knit to your order in any of thirty-four smashing colors... the price is only 65.00. Little sleeveless handknit sweaters look terrific with shirt and pants - they come in solid colors and stripes, and the colors are handsomely "different". Take olive and pink for instance. These are 22.00 each.

Linen-look suits come in white for a two piece style at just 23.00... and 30.00 for a pale blue style with cute checked gingham blouse. Flowered chiffon smoke ring scarves by Vera come in luscious colors at 3.00... the solid shades are 2.50. The House of Lyn has the best looking hats! A limited number of these, but ideally chosen for wear with Spring suits. Here's a white straw, tall crowned, with wide brown suede band and brown chiffon rose. Only 8.00 Fresh white gloves, too, are available at House of Lyn. Located just behind the Book Store in the court. Owners Mary Lou Nichols and Irene Stutzman are as pretty a pair of young women as you'll find on a fashion show runway. And most gracious.

Can't think of a better way to spend a dollar than to buy a new book for a child. At The Wells Carmel Rancho Book Store are wonderful new books that cost so little. The True-To-Life series put out by Encyclopedia Britannica includes such fascinating titles as Life Along The Seashore... Yasin of Arabia... Monarch Butterfly and The Trail To Santa Fe. Books put out by Random House have enchanting illustrations... hard to believe they only set you back a dollar. Here are Anderson's Fairy Tales... Pinocchio... Heidi... Mother Goose. Nice BIG books, easy to hold. And here's The Story of Albert Schweitzer for 1.95. Come choose yours!

Suds & Scissors Pet Shop says that NOW is the time to put up birdhouses. They've some beauties, in redwood, priced 4.98 and 5.59. Feathered friends will move in to delight you for the season. The pet shop has a group of charming life-sized look-like-real birds, "People Watchers" with details so true to life you thoroughly expect them to suddenly take to flight. Use them for decorating - they're 98¢ each and there are many varieties.

Got spring fever?? Then choose Holland bulbs at Brinton's Hardware (garden section). They're probably the best quality in the world, and the beautiful colors and varieties of flowers will delight the experimental gardener. You'll find them specially priced, so take advantage of this treat and put them in your garden this weekend. Gladiolus bulbs, for example, are 99¢ a dozen. Many shades of begonia and dahlia, too, are available.

Illustrated Talk For Fidelity Club

Tomorrow evening the Fidelity Club will have its April meeting. A potluck dinner will be served at 6 p.m.

A welcome is extended to any and all persons who are 50 years of age or older and who bring their own table service and a dish of food.

General and Mrs. Robert Bare will present, following the repast, a "kodachrome account" of their recent trip through Guatamala, Panama, Peru, Chile, Brazil, and Argentina.

Visitors from Minneapolis, Minnesota, at the Don Johnson home on Village Drive have been Don's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Magnusson.

PEACE EDUCATION MOVIES

A program of films for both children and adults will be shown at the Community Center, Friday, April 3 at 8:00 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Peace Center of the Monterey Peninsula. The public is invited without charge. The films are furnished by the Canadian consul general and include one on Canadian Indians, one about an international girls' camp, and part of a series entitled "Earth and Mankind."

Brownies Cheer Hospital Patients

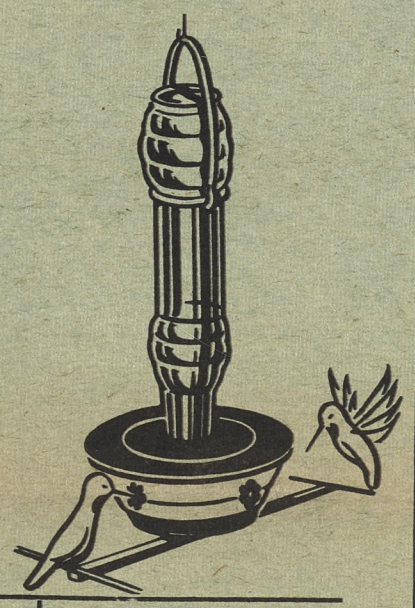

Patients at the Community Hospital on Sunday found cheery Easter favors on their trays made by Carmel Valley Brownie Troop 2089. Mrs. Ray Slingerland, troop leader, says the Brownies used nut cups to make 100 baskets, each adorned by a bunny and filled with jelly beans.

Pool Donation May Win Mink Stole

BY BETTY ANTONCICH
(ON BEHALF OF THE POOL COMMITTEE)

A beautiful autumn-haze mink stole, also a Jonathan Logan wool knit suit donated by Bert Berg of Berg's Apparel and a man's gold wristwatch donated by Ira Nagel, will be awarded to three lucky people who wish to make a dollar donation to the Carmel Valley Swimming Pool. You will have an opportunity to make your donation at Joanne's Sportswear where the stole will be displayed next week, at the Thunderbird Bookshop and through all the members of of the Community Center. In an effort to raise the last sum of money to complete the dressing rooms for the pool, the center board members urge those of you who have not made a substantial donation, to do so now.

Chapel Guild's Spring Salad Lunch

Plans are progressing to make the annual Spring Luncheon of the Carmel Valley Community Chapel Guild on April 8 at 12:30 p.m. the event of the season. General chairman, Mrs. William Wood, has assigned her committee members and they are all busy.

Mrs. Tom (Ellen) waters will once again present her "Fun in the Sun" fashion show so popular with all the ladies whose thoughts are turning to a new spring wardrobe.

Since only 150 persons can be accommodated at the Fellowship Hall of the Community Chapel, it will be wise to make reservations as early as possible with Mrs. S. Maus Purple (OL 9-2882) or Mrs. Harry Wolfe (OL 9-2462). Tickets may also be purchased from Ruth Getz at the Carmel Valley Market or at the Patty Cake Bakery. Donations are $2.50.

Assisting Mrs. Wood will be Mrs. Edward Arana, chairman of table service. Her committee members are Mrs. Toland Doud, Mrs. Edgar Meyer, and Mrs. Ray Slingerland. Mrs. Guy Freeman is in charge of publicity. Mrs. Howard Vail is chairman of the clean-up committee. Her assistants are Stella Miller, Mrs. Harry Wolfe, and Mrs. Gertrude Berry. Flower arranging chairman, Mrs. L. L. Dickie, will be assisted by Mrs. Emil Hansen, Mrs. Anders Larsen, and Mrs. Irving Ollason. Mrs. Fred Mylar is in charge of salad making and will be helped by Mrs. Charles Abbott, Mrs. Donald Waylett, and Mrs. William Wood. Hostesses include Mrs. S. Gordon Brown, Mrs. Harvey Haywood, Mrs. Peter Girard, and Mrs. Jay Rathbun.

A baby sitting service will be provided for the small charge of 50¢ per child.

Models will be Honey Lundin, Carol Reams, Gertrude Berry, Jayne Cartwright, Kathleen Wood, Vertia Baker, Jeanne Cullen, Florence Johnson, Marge Carter, Ginny and Gerralynn Morenz.

CJHS Presents 'Finian's Rainbow'

Not a 'doctored' or cut version for young performers, but the complete production of the Broadway musical "Finian's Rainbow" is the ambitious current undertaking of the Carmel Junior High School Drama classes. Under the direction of Miss Diane Hardy, this first musical to be presented by the Carmel Unified School District will be performed for the next two weeks at Sunset Auditorium.

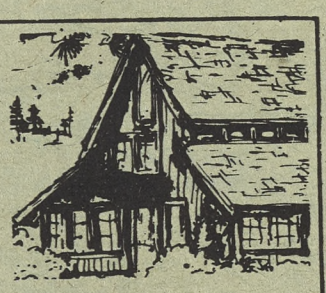

Most of the major roles in "Finian's Rainbow" are double cast, "for flexibility and interest," Miss Hardy explains. The show is described as a "mixture of fun, fantasy, a sharp look at prejudice, romance -- and even folksingers.

It was first produced for a hit run of several hundred performances in 1947, had a major Broadway revival in 1960.

Except for two guest artists who will, Miss Hardy says, "add variety and strength," all the performers are Carmel Junior High School students. "...And they are doing a splendid job," she adds proudly.

There will be matinees at 4:00 p.m. on Thrusdays (April 2 and April 9) and evening performances at 7:45 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays (April 3, 4, 10, 11). Tickets are 75¢ for adults, 35¢ for children under 16, and are available at Swan's in Carmel Valley, California Music House in Carmel, and Abinante's in Monterey. Or call MA 4-1381 for reservations.

OPERATION UPDATE BEGINS TOMORROW AT MPC

"Operation Update," the popular annual series of Thursday morning lectures by Monterey Peninsula College faculty members for the women of the area, will swing into its fourth season next month.

The series, co-sponsored by MPC and the American Association of University Women, Monterey Peninsula Branch, will open April 2, 10 a. m. in the library lecture hall on campus.

Designed to present new concepts in four separate fields of learning to ex-college women and others interested in "updating" their information, the lectures are scheduled as follows:

April 2: Warren Spindler, chairman of the MPC criminology department, on "Criminology Around the World."

April 9: Richard Bibler, nationally known cartoonist and a member of the college's art department, on "Design in the '60's."

April 16: Philip Nash of the data processing department and David Hopkins of the business department on "The Individual and Machines in Business Today."

April 23: Dr. Jack F. Leach, chairman of the history and institutions department, on "Politics in Election Year."

All women are invited to attend free of charge. Each lecture will begin at 10 a. m., to be followed at 11:00 with a coffee break and question-and-answer period until noon.

Outlook on Carmel

Council Candidates

The Outlook already has presented five of the seven candidates running for election to three vacancies on the city council in the April 14 municipal election. This week Mayor Eben Whittlesey, who is seeking a second term, and W.C. "Cliff" Phelps are presented.

Eben Whittlesey

Mr. Whittlesey says he is running for re-election because there is a number of unfinished municipal projects which he is interested in having brought to completion. One is the project for Sunset School which he would like to see carried through according to decisions made by the citizens. Others are revision of the city's electrical, plumbing and building codes, also acquisition of areas designated as desirable greenbelt for Carmel.

Mr. Whittlesey declares he has enjoyed his four years on the council and during this time come to realize that experience has definite value. New blood is important to the council but it takes two years' experience for a new councilman to be effective, he believes. Consequently, he is offering his services to the city again so that there will be a possibility for three experienced men and only two replacements on the new council.

An attorney, Mayor Whittlesey will have lived in Carmel for 22 years this summer. However, he knew this area when he was a law student at Stanford University, and spent a year here immediately after graduation. He graduated from Williams College before entering Stanford.

In 1934, Mr. Whittlesey lost the sight of one eye. Surgery for a detached retina failed to save the sight of his other eye in 1940, the year he graduated from law school.

As a result he could not take the California State Bar examinations in the fall of that year but passed them and was licensed to practice in 1941.

He is a charter member and past president of the Carmel Lions Club; has served as president of the Community Chest and on the board of the Carmel Red Cross. He was a member of the original group which incorporated the Monterey Symphony, served on the Symphony association board for 13 years and is a past president of this organization. He also was one of the organizers and is now a member of the board of the Bishop Kip School of All Saints' Episcopal Parish. Previously, he served on the vestry of the parish.

His wife, the former Mary Bigland, has lived in Carmel since 1926 and is a graduate of Sunset School. The Whittleseys' daughter, Deborah, 15, is a sophomore at Carmel High School.

An important member of the Whittlesey household and the Mayor's almost constant companion is his Guide Dog, Regan.

W. C. Phelps

Cliff Phelps is a candidate for one of the three vacant city council seats because he believes it is high time he took part in the activities of the town. He has maintained a home and spent much time in Carmel since 1947.

Mr. Phelps does not like the direction which he believes development of the city is taking.

"Carmel should be a residential community and we are heading towards becoming a miniature San Francisco, New York or Coney Island," he told the Outlook.

"It's time to begin holding things down and imposing a few limitations. I think the council should return to the old town hall procedures, and I would like to be a spokesman for the people who wish to preserve the residential character of Carmel," he added.

"This may seem a strange attitude for a Carmel businessman," he observed. A wholesale importer, Mr. Phelps operates a retail market for international imports on Ocean Avenue.

Born and educated in Illinois, he came to Carmel 17 years ago. He was associated with a local real estate office for a period, later spent three years "building churches from Maine to Hawaii.

Although his employment kept him away from Carmel at times, his permanent home was here and his family lived in Carmel.

He and his wife, Margaret, have three children. They are Sharon, 17, Bud, 13, and Mike, seven years old.

Carmel by SPIKE HEELY

"Here comes the Mayor!"

This is the joyous whoop which heralds Mayor Eben Whittlesey's approach to his Vizcaino Street homewhenever a young-five-year old neighbor is outside playing with her friends.

The greeting is one of the most delightful experiences of his term in office, the Mayor says.

Recently, he discovered that the young lady inculcates great respect for his title among her playmates.

He was outside working in his yard. A group of tots, including his admirer, gathered round.

"How can you hammer a nail when you can't see?" one inquired.

His Honor explained how he accomplished this feat, and others, such as gardening. Then came what, he claims is the inevitable question, "Are you really blind?" He said he was.

"Oh, you're kidding," exclaimed an unbeliever.

But the little girl of the joyous whoops would have none of this disrespectful doubt.

"Mayors never joke," she repremanded, and there was an awed silence which included Mr. Whittlesey.

As it is now, the Mayor can be nothing but august around his home. We suspect that is why the Whittleseys are looking forward to weekends on the seven and a half acres they have bought high above Robles del Rio in Carmel Valley in partnership with the John Brocks.

The Mayor of Carmel has to be able to exercise his wit once in a while.

While we're on the subject of the Mayor, and we can't seem to get away from it, that Valley land is on Calle de los Agrinemsors.

The Mayor represented Carmel in Spain this year and has been brushing up his Spanish ever since. Of course he looked up agrinemsors; he wanted to be hep.

No such Spanish word exists. Further research revealed somewhere, some typist hit keys in the wrong order and a wrongly-spelled street name has been officially recorded and so appears on county maps.

It should be agrimensors. What does that mean in English? Sroyevrus!

Never thought they'd name a street after them, did you?

Public Forum

Friday night Carmel voters will have a chance to see, hear and question all candidates seeking municipal offices on April 14 as the Carmel Business Association is sponsoring a public forum in All Saints' Parish Hall at 8 p.m.

Invited to speak are: council seat contenders Mayor Eben Whittlesey, Joseph Danysh, Stephen A. Grant, Paul Hazdovac, W. C. Phelps, Gunnar Norberg and Roland Scheffler; city treasurer candidates Sam Coleman, incumbent, Speirs Ruskell and Harry Hilbert; city clerk candidate Hugh Bayless.

Jeanene LeNeve Wed

A blue and white color scheme was chosen by Jeanene Marie Le Neve, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff LeNeve, of Carmel Valley for her marriage on March 22 to William James Parsons, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Parsons of Marina.

White flowers decorated the candlelit altar of the Church of the Wayfarer for the wedding ceremony performed by Dr. K. Fillmore Gray and Martha Twining, an Alpha Gamma Delta sorority sister of Jeanene's at Chico State College, sang.

Given in marriage by her father Jeanene wore a white peau de soie gown with a lace bodice and full floor-length skirt. Her shoulder-length veil fell from a crown of pearls and she carried a bouquet of white baby roses centered with an orchid.

Her sister, Mrs. William Koon, was her matron of honor and bridesmaids were two Chico State sorority sisters, Lynn Stockwell and Mary Lough. They were dressed alike in long royal blue peau de soie frocks, matching shoes and veiled circlet hats. The matron of honor carried a cascade bouquet, and the bridesmaids nosegays of white carnations.

James Bricker of Salinas was best man and ushers were the bride's brother, Brian LeNeve, and Sam Trotter of Arroyo Seco.

Mrs. LeNeve attended her daughter's marriage in a blue wool sheath dress and black hat. The bridegroom's mother was clad in a print dress with blue coat and a pink hat. Both had white butterfly orchid corsages.

Blue and white streamers, white wedding bells and blue irises were the decorations at the American Legion Hall for the reception following the wedding.

After the bridal couple had cut their five-tiered wedding cake, they left for a honeymoon in San Francisco and are now at home in Pacific Grove at 502 Forest Avenue.

Jeanene attended Carmelo, Sunset and Carmel High Schools. She graduated from Chico State College in January and is now teaching at Ord Terrace School.

Her husband is a graduate of Monterey High School. He is now employed by the Fort Ord Fire Department following Army service.

JANICE WAY ENGAGED

Easter Sunday, Mrs. Dorothy Demass Berne announced the engagement of her daughter, Janice, to Michael Farlinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. William James Farlinger of Monterey, at a champagne party in her home for close friends and relatives.

Janice, a graduate of Sunset and Carmel High Schools, is now a student at Bay City College in San Francisco. Her fiance attends San Francisco State College and is enrolled in the executive training program at the Emporium.

Janice and Michael will be married on August 15 in Carmel.

TOGETHERNESS

"You have a baby daughter," William C. Boggess was informed when he awoke from sedation following nasal surgery on March 26. He was further surprisingly told that Mrs. Boggess was a patient in the Community Hospital. He telephoned her and found out that their daughter, Clairinda Lou, weighed six pounds, 14 and one-half ounces and was occupying a bassinet in the hospital nursery. The young lady had not been expected for another three weeks.

"Then I called my mother in Los Angeles to tell her our news and she, too, was in the hospital recovering from an operation," Clairinda Lou's father reports. But there were two members of the family not hospitalized. They were the baby's brother, Clayton, two and a half years old, and her Grandfather Boggess.

BIRTHDAY PARTIES

Mr. John E. Abernethy had two birthday parties this year. However, he had to share one of the celebrations. This was a cocktail party arranged by Brigadier General John S. Winn, Jr. who invited friends to wish Mrs. Winn and Mr. Abernethy many happy returns of the day at the Winn home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Porter, friends of the Abernethys for 45 years, gave the second birthday party for Mr. Abernethy. This was a dinner at Rocky Point Lodge.

ALOHA SUPERVISOR

Supervisor Thomson J. Hudson had to go to Honolulu in his capacity as an attorney. His wife, Jane, flew with him to the Islands and they so enjoyed Hawaii that they decided their children should join them for Easter vacation week. Dan and Sally went but, Tim, the Hudson's older son, decided to remain at home.

FIRST VISIT TO CARMEL

Dr. and Mrs. David Reed of Carmel Hills have been busy the past two weeks showing relatives from Connecticut the Monterey Peninsula and San Francisco Bay area. Their guests were Dr. Reed's father and sister, Flood E. Reed of Norwich and Mrs. Richard Hyde of Gales Ferry.

Mrs. Hyde returned home to spend Easter with her family and resume duties as a teacher of chemistry. Her father, a retired teacher, is remaining longer in California.

Mrs. Reed gave a luncheon in honor of her sister-in-law on Tuesday of last week. Guests were the wives of colleagues of Dr. Reed at the Stanford Research Institute.

The Eastern visitors were also entertained by Dr. and Mrs. Frank Harris of Carmel, Mr. and Mrs. William Miller of Carmel Hills and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hansen of Carmel Valley.

CAMERA SAFARI

Photographer Brett Weston and Jerry Carlson planned to leave today on a trip to Lower California and Mexico. In Brett's camper will be his "big" camera.

They will cross by boat from Baja California to Guaymas, then drive south and finally follow the jungle road into Puerto Vallarta.

HERE FROM THE SOUTH

Mrs. Wilbur Wilkinson and her daughter, Judy, spent part of the Easter vacation in Carmel on the Wilkinson home on Ridgewood Road. Judy obtained her master's degree from Stanford University last year and is now measuring the hearing of small children as technician for a UCLA research project.

They returned to Pacific Palisades on Sunday.

FROM SANTA BARBARA

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Glasgow of Santa Barbara were in Carmel last week. They are frequent visitors here. This time Mr. Glasgow, a retired Scottish engineer, spent time painting with Richard Lofton.

Music on the Peninsula

BY MARY LINDSAY OLIVER

John Browning, the now internationally famous young American pianist who served in the U.S. Army some years ago at Fort Ord was the artist for the 4th event of the 37th season of the Carmel Music Society. He was greeted by another sold-out house at Sunset Auditorium.

A genius who has proved himself to be not only a pianist of amazing power but possessor of the soul of a poet with seldom found interpretive perceptions. This was shown particularly in his renderings of Chopin and Schumann, so often today played with excessive speed and superficiality.

The intricate Couperin Pieces de Clavecin that opened the program, the Samuel Barber sonata with its fascinating allegro and adagio movements, the Debussy Five Preludes were given with sensitive finesse in their spiritually free utterance. Finally there was a profound and tremendous rendition of the Schumann Etudes Symphonique.

It was an unforgetable recital!

Because of its great variety it is not possible in a short report to do justice to the Roger Wagner Chorale that completed the Peninsula Concert Association's series at Pacific Grove.

Acclaimed in the greatest musical centers, including London and Paris, as a musician of widest knowledge, Roger Wagner conducted his 25 singers with great esprit in a comprehensive program that included a Baroque era Handel concerto played by Paul Manz of St. Paul's Concordia College on a portable pipe organ. And English and New World folk song soloists and chorus projected beauty of tone, articulations, dramatic intent and cadences of exceptional achievement. We hope they can return as an example of most artistic rendition in chorale singing.

The new Junior Symphony Orchestra of 53 young people from the high schools in Monterey, Pacific Grove, Salinas, Seaside and Carmel presented free its first public program at Sunset auditorium to a good sized audience and made an excellent impression with Mozart, Handel, Purcell, Schubert selections and two modern compositions by Harlan and Anderson, local composers.

The next big Orchestral concert is the "Pops" at the Fairgrounds on April 19 at 2. The final pair of this season's concerts will be at Salinas and Carmel on May 11 and 12.

Major Kenneth Korver and his family welcomed the opportunity to return to the Peninsula and an assignment with CDED following completion of duty on Okinawa. The Korvers were stationed at Fort Ord prior to their Pacific tour and had unanimously voted this area as their choice of a permanent home when Major Korver retires in 1967. They have purchased the former Kenny Baker home on Poppy and Holman Roads and with children, Mikelle, 13, Greg, 10, and Elizabeth, nine, are busy making long range plans for retirement home in Carmel Valley.

It's a pleasure also to welcome new neighbors down on Paso Cresta, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Jorgenson, Former San Jose residents, Jasmine and Leland moved their family to the Peninsula for their job with the Economics Laboratory. Their children are Shannon, 16, Sherman, six, a charming two-year-old, Misty.

Mr. and Mrs. John Power of Country Club Drive spent Easter in Phoenix and returned home by way of Palm Springs and Apple Valley.

More Valleyites returning from a vacation in the resort area of Scottsdale, Arizona, were Carol and Dice Dryden. They were more than a little surprised to see a submarine "parked" beside the road near Camp Roberts. This was BEFORE the storm so the Drydens reported the presence of the small one-man orange marine craft complete with conning tower and propeller, to the next highway patrol substation. The officer in charge reported, "one very flat tire on one towing trailer" but the Drydens still are convinced that it was a forwarning of "heavy rains in Carmel Valley!"

Glad to hear that Mai Stevenson is making such rapid recovery at the Salinas Memorial Hospital from back surgery. Our best wishes for a speedy return to her home on Merrill Way.

The Hugh Erwins and Bruce Springers are looking forward to Open House next week at Fort Ord and an opportunity to see their sons for the first time since they began their six-week basic training course as Army recruits. Ernie Erwin and Mike Springer enlisted in February under the "buddy system" that will take them to Europe and three years of duty in Germany.

Twenty four members from the Santa Clara flying club rendezvoused in the Valley last week, had dinner, and returned home. An elderly distinguished pilot sporting an oversized badge identifying him as "Flyer of the Hour" happily confessed that he had won this distinction for making the worst landing on the Carmel Valley field!

BARBARA MURPHY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Murphy, El Caminito Road, Carmel Valley, on March 19, received the endorsement of the Carmel Red Cross board for a chapter-sponsored scholarship to the American National Red Cross Aquatic School to be held at Camp Tuelquoia, near Fresno, in August.

Barbara, who graduates from Carmel High School in June, will attend the aquatic school as a candidate for certification as a Red Cross water safety instructor.

Following graduation she will assist at the new pool in the Valley as a life guard until her departure for her instructor's training. Barbara plans to teach swimming during the summers while she is completing her schooling to become a teacher of physical education.

Mrs. Creston Crockett, Upper Circle, Carmel Valley, will also go to the aquatic school as a member of the training staff. This will be the second time Mrs. Crockett has been a volunteer instructor trainer at the school, having served on the staff in 1962. The Camp Tulequoia school is one of seven conducted by the national organization throughout the United States.

Luck Smiles On Mark Ayres

Poetic justice was served and virtue rewarded when 15-year-old Mark Ayres, son of Jeannette Ayres of West CV Road, proved to be the lucky ticket-holder at the Trail & Saddle Club St. Patrick's Day dance.

Mark, who drives a tractor during the summer, harrowed up the ring on the Trail & Saddle Club grounds last fall before a show, and blew out two of his tires doing it. Grumbling a little to his mother about the high price of civic rectitude, he got only slight comfort from her. She assured him that good deeds cheerfully done bring credit to their performers, and sometimes something more substantial.

Buying the ticket for Mark, Jeannette had little more in mind than another good deed--but this one paid off handsomely. As a result of the drawing, Mark is the envied owner of the handsome oil painting by Jack Swanson entitled "Horsebreakers — Camp Cachagua."

following paragraphs.

"Let us keep our dedication in practical balance and short of the range of fanaticism whereby we might yield to any massive built-in self righteousness to coerce others by methods unworthy of noble objectives, but rather proceed in a magnificent spirit of community neighborliness depending entirely on individual willingness. The former is the method of socialist dictatorship -- based on the theory that the end justifies the means-- the other is the hallowed American method of community action where neighbors can vie to outdo one another in generosity to the community good.

"Let us all stand firmly together in our mutual dedication to the cause of maintaining the beauty of the Monterey Peninsula through mutual pacts and through a voluntary community agency such as a foundation."

Area Planning Commission Chairman Keith Evans says that Mr. Swim's letter indicates he is anxious to do more than his share of preserving the Peninsula and that his proposals are now being studied and will be presented at the next meeting of the area planning commission.

Admiral Singleton, who gave the letter to Mr. Evans, is chairman of a group of citizens from all communities of the Peninsula. They established the Citizens Committee for Conservation on February 1, the day the proposed Monterey Peninsula Area General Plan was accepted by the area planning commission.

This committee was formed primarily to support the plan's proposals for four parks and greenbelt along scenic highways.

At present, two sub-committees are ascertaining how much money will be needed to acquire the park lands proposed in the area plan; and what method should be used to acquire the required lands. Another sub-committee is preparing information sheets to provide the people of the Peninsula with facts. A fourth is working on the matter of gaining the support of clubs and agencies for the park proposals in the area plan.

"My attitude," Admiral Singleton told the OUTLOOK, is that Mr. Swim presented a great and very generous idea. Acquisition of the land for the parks will take many hundred thousand dollars. I would prefer that acquisition funds be supplied by a foundation. However, I think that there are not enough Mr. Swims in this area to provide enough money for a foundation to buy, and maintain the proposed parks.

"A park district, therefore, appears to be the only way to finance the parks. This district also could serve as a medium or agency to receive properties and take care of them if gifts are made towards the acquisition cost of the park lands.

"Those of us involved feel that the public should make possible acquisition of the parks, and this possibility may be best accomplished by a park district.

Carmel Valley GEM & MINERAL SOCIETY

BY GALE HOLLOWAY

Our April field trip will be to Hunter Liggett Military Reservation. Dates are, tentatively, Saturday and Sunday, April 25 and 26. This is an excellent location to pan for rubies and garnets and to find agage and petrified bone. Guests are always welcome on our trips, and for more information, are invited to attend the Society's meeting Friday night, April 10, at Tularcitos School, or to call 624-6280.

The club's March field trip was to the Clear Creek area of San Benito County. Early-morning starting weather was doubtful, but a telephone call to the King City Police Department informed us of "No rain in King City." At 5:00 a.m., this was good to know!

By 9:30 a.m. we had made our rendezvous at the brick yard deep in the hills of the Clear Creek region. First, we scouted the lower areas looking for color and texture in the rocks. This can take as much time and attention as one cares to give it. We kept interested and moved slowly until after lunch.

Then our interest turned to the higher reaches of the surrounding hills. Four of our junior members wanted to take home samples of free mercury, which is found in cinnabar ore at the North Star mine and other places in this area. It's little more than a jeep road from the creek up to the 4,000 foot level where the mine is located. In our station wagon, it seemed like a goat trail! There we were, high and dry; but a wet snow shower suddenly blew in, chilling our bones and dampening the rocks. The wet ore became brilliant with color, and samples of mercury-bearing cinnabar were located.

The snow shower lasted about fifteen minutes, and the rest of the trip was dry and fairly warm. Besides mercury and cinnabar, we found colorful chrysoprase at the North Star, jade at Clear Creek and - on our way home - several colors of jaspar from the San Benito River.

By-the-way, our field-trip mottoes are: "Watch for Rocks" and - a new one - "Oregon or Bust."

MRS. KLENE'S SLIDES

Mrs. L. W. Klene of Carmel Valley will show color slides of her travels for members of the Carmel Art Association tomorrow evening at 8 p.m. The program will be an "anthology of the Middle East", she promises.

NEWS FROM HACIENDA CARMEL

by Edward G. Petherick

SPRING FEVER

Each spring brings a rash of itchy feet in addition to the sneezing from pine tree pollen. Among the first at Hacienda Carmel to catch this disease are Charles and Leona Robinson and Harold and Cloy Sutcliffe.

The Robinsons left three weeks ago and went first to Cortland on the Sacramento River, are now in Tucson, Arizona for a month... due home June 1.

The Sutcliffe's left Tuesday for the Borrego Desert in Southern California on a picture taking jaunt. They both have identical Cameras and Mrs. Sutcliffe will be making colored slides of the desert scenery while Harold will be making colored closeups of the wild flowers and cacti. The trip will take six weeks. Members will be shown these slides with a lecture, later in the year.

HOUSE TOUR

The residents of Hacienda Carmel and their guests were treated to a tour of inspection of 22 one-bedroom furnished apartments last Sunday. All apartments are individually owned and occupied and the visitors had the opportunity to view the many ideas of furnishing and decorating as expressed by the owners.

After the tour, refreshments were served in Casa Fiesta and the piano fund was the recipient of $67. The next tour will be held in April and will exhibit the two bedroom units.

FIRE TALK

On Monday the 16th the members assembled in Casa Fiesta to hear a talk on fire prevention and to learn how to act and what to do in case of fire.

Eric Jensen of the Carmel Fire Department was on hand to demonstrate our fire extinguishers and explain the fire alarm system and tell what those "little knobs" in the ceiling of every room mean. It was a very interesting and instructive meeting and we now know what to do when the horns blow, and how to squirt the fire extinguishers. Let's see now, the red ones are for grease and electric fires and the silver ones are for drapes, bedding and woodwork. Anyhow, DON'T SMOKE IN BED, use the bath tub!

NEW CHAIRMAN OF MUSIC

Mrs. William B. Skowran has been appointed chairman of music programs and concerts, succeeding Jessie Small, who has devoted a lot of time and effort to the entertainment of our members during the past year.

Mrs. Skowran is an accomplished musician, playing both piano and organ, and we shall look forward to her programs.

MEMBERS PURCHASE OIL PAINTING

Urged on by Miss Donna Davis, our art teacher, art lovers at Hacienda Carmel have decided to purchase the beautiful painting "Morning Light" by Paul Lauritz, which has been on display in our dining room for more than a year. Contributions to date amount to over five hundred dollars and a like amount is still needed to complete the purchase.

TRAVELLERS COMING AND GOING

Mr. and Mrs. John Yates have just returned from a cruise of the Mediterranean and report having had a wonderful time, but are glad to be back home again. The Gordon Reids spent the past weekend in San Francisco with her son Ashton Stanley and family. Mr. Stanley is manager of the Mark Hopkins Hotel. Word comes from Mrs. James Lowsley at Simi, California, that she will not return to Hacienda Carmel until late in April. She is in the process of selling her home in Simi and will remain there until final details are completed.

AREA GENERAL PLAN HEARING

BY DOROTHY REED

The difference between a plan and a district which would implement it occupied most of the public hearing last week on the Area General Plan. Not one detail of the plan itself came up for criticism or discussion.

The plan, has been evolved over a period of more than seven years by the area planning commission, their professional staff, and an advisory committee of interested citizens appointed by the Board of Supervisors and the various city councils. But legally it is nothing more than its name -- a plan. Even if adopted by the governing bodies of the six cities and the county, it would carry no obligations or powers; it could be filed away on a shelf and never looked at again unless enabling legislation such as zoning were passed to give it teeth.

As has been noted in connection with the Valley's Master Plan time and time again, parties who have no interest in the values represented by the plan may submit applications for development totally in contradiction to it, and only the most determined efforts on the part of local residents can head them off.

Because of the many areas on the Area General Plan marked for conservation - such as beaches, tree-filled skylines, canyon trails for hiking and riding - the planners have suggested that some public body be created to receive these areas as gifts, to raise money to purchase them, or to levy taxes for their purchase. Whatever this body might be (they have mentioned a conservation district), it could be set up only by direct submission to a vote of the people in the proposed district -- it could not be "imposed" by the planners.

Copies of the Area General Plan may now be found at the Outlook office for study. It is hoped that the next public hearing, to be held May 28, will find citizens present to approve or criticize the plan's suggestions for location of roads, schools, shopping centers, parks, recreation areas, etc.

Another Gas Station?

Woman's Club

The regular monthly meeting of the Carmel Woman's Club will be on Monday at 2:00.

The speaker will be Dr. Wallace H. Moore. He will bring to the members the results of stimulating and vital experiences in the service of the government of the United States.

In his speeches he gives many vivid anecdotes and dynamic accounts of personal experiences as an intelligence officer during World War II, and in advisory capacity for this country in Korea, Japan and Russia.

PEO LUNCH APRIL 4

The first PEO luncheon was so well-attended, especially by residents of Carmel Valley Manor, that there will be another on Saturday in Carmel at La Playa Hotel.

Registration is set for noon. Luncheon will be at 12:30 p.m. All resident, non-resident and unaffiliated members of the PEO sisterhood are invited. Reservations should be made by tomorrow with Mrs. R. Petersen (375-1378), or Mrs. Allan Craig (372-0733). "There will be no program --, just visiting."

Jottings from the Sheriff's Blotter

On March 26, Hazel Bolstad, Rt. 3, Box 416, reported to the sheriff's office that two boys aged 11 and 12, had shot a bird. Following investigation, parents of the boys promised a member of the sheriff's force that their sons would be allowed to use guns in future only when they were accompanied by a parent.

Sheriff Jack Davenport telephoned the Outlook office last Monday with a message for householders: recently, he said, he had noted a large number of reports of vandalism in empty houses.

"If people plan to be away from their homes for brief vacations, 4 or 5 days, they can notify our office by telephone. We cannot promise to patrol their home every hour of the day, or anything like that, but if we know that a home is empty we can certainly make it a point to look twice during our regular patrols! Unless we know that a house is supposed to be unoccupied, the mere fact of lights inside or activity without would not arouse our suspicions, of course..."

Davenport said that his office must take less responsibility for homes which are empty for longer lengths of time, such as homes for sale which are listed with realtors, etc.

While on the wire, the Sheriff also discussed cattle rustling. He is now a member of a statewide committee of Sheriffs conferring with cattlemen about this problem. "In this era of home freezers, it is a real problem...a criminal can shoot a small animal and have it completely butchered and wrapped and in his freezer at home within a matter of a few hours..." Davenport said he had "heard talk" of rustling in CV, but "very few cases actually reported...our county has less trouble this way than others, it seems."

The Cattleman's Association now offers rewards of $100 (for a misdemeanor) and $500 (for a felony) for information leading to arrest and conviction in such cases. Davenport cited a recent case where a woman (whose name is withheld by the Sheriff's Office at her own request) earned $100 because she picked up the phone when she witnessed a neighbor carrying a pan of bloody meat from his car to his house at an odd hour. Davenport's recommendation: keep your eyes open and it may be to your personal benefit as well as that of the ranchers and general law and order!

Sale-Rama Preview Sale

BY JEANNINE BOTTARO

Storage space bursting at the seams is forcing a special preview of the Sala-rama held yearly by Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church. The "overstocked" sale will take place on the church grounds from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m. Saturday, April 4.

Usually a fall event featuring high quality used items, the sale this year offers an extraordinary collection of merchandise, due to the donation of some small buildings by Kevan Walsh. Home builders and remodelers w Home bargains in gas ranges, apartment sized heaters, plumbing, garage doors, refrigerators, electric ranges and other portable building items.

For younger do-it-yourselfers, there will be bike parts, old skates ideal for building skate boards, and the like. Some racks of clothing will also be on display.

Profits from the sale go toward the upkeep of altar and furnishings of the church. It is the only fund-raising event of the year. Sponsors are members of the Altar Society, and anyone wishing to donate goods to the sale or needing more information may contact any of its members.

Free Chest X-Rays

The mobile X-ray unit of the Monterey County Health department will be parked near the Carmel post office from 1 - 5 p.m. on April 13. Free chest x-rays will be given to those desiring them.

Girl Scout Playday

BY SALLY PAUL

When the sun reappeared last Tuesday afternoon, 47 energetic Brownies and Jr. Girl Scouts scampered outside onto the playground at Carmel Valley Community Center.

Seven troops of Jr. Scouts and Brownies, ages 7 to 11 years, attended the 1st annual playday in the Valley; all enjoyed themselves in true Scout tradition. A girl from each troop aptly led the others in her troop's favorite game or song; consequently, the girls established leadership, good sportsmanship, united comradship and good constructive fun that the Girl Scout Organization offers to every girl!

Mrs. Roy Forzani was chairman of the event which was sponsored by the Carmel Valley Girl Scout neighborhood.

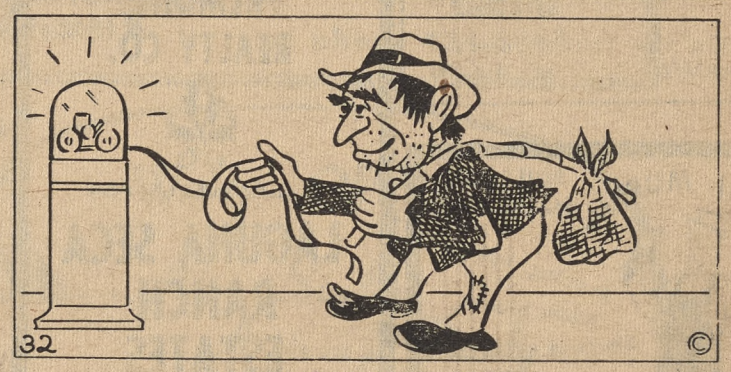

Troops and their leaders who participated were: Troop 2008, Mrs. Clyde N. Young: Troop 2012, Mrs. Fred Boehme; Troop 2089, Mrs. Ray Slingerland and Troop 2094 whose leader is Mrs. John Upp.

Mrs. Philip Pedro, Field Advisor for the Monterey Bay Girl Scout Council, was a guest.

Bringing the day's activities to a close, Jr. Scout Leslie Eckert led the group in the Wishing Circle. For the first time all day there was silence as each girl joined crossed hands with her Scout sister and quietly made a wish.
